SINT MAARTEN'S GREEN LIGHT SHINES BRIGHTER THAN EVER!

After 17 years, our Sint Maarten silos have undergone a remarkable transformation, not only regaining their former glory but also becoming a renewed emblem of our identity and commitment to continuous improvement.

The silos, which for years have endured the relentless Caribbean sun and strong winds, have undergone a rejuvenation process.

This included sandblasting the surface of the silos and then applying a polyurethane-based paint selected for its durability and for meeting high-quality standards.

Now, with its vibrant shades of green glowing under the Sint Maarten sky, these silos represent not only our history but also our effort, dedication, and vision for the future.

IT WAS A PROJECT THAT MATERIALIZED IN ONLY FOUR MONTHS!

The logistics were incredibly challenging, requiring us to source supplies and transport specialized equipment from off-island. We also brought in experts from Spain and Panama to guarantee that every aspect of the project met the highest standards.

Samuel Arango,
Antilles' Country Manager.

“ I'm pleased to announce the successful completion of our silo painting renovation at the Sint Maarten Cement Terminal, a key milestone for our operation. This project has greatly enhanced the durability and appearance of our silos, visible from the Cruise Ship Terminal, improving our facility's aesthetics and making it a source of pride for those of us working here. Thank you to everyone who contributed to this success. Your dedication continues to elevate our company's standards. **”
